

From: StGeorgeV@aol.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/6/01 3:56pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement Issue

Dear Sirs:

It is my understanding that the Microsoft settlement includes a provision that Microsoft will be required to turn over the Windows source code to competitors and potential competitors.

If this is true, I believe that this will allow terrorists and hackers to more easily get into computers using Windows. It gives them a "roadmap" to get into systems and bring them down.

If I am right, then I believe Microsoft should NOT be required to provide the source code to others.

I am just an interested civilian.

Thank you for Listening,

Robert Hicks
3118 Gracefield Road Apt. #T23
Silver Spring, Maryland 20904
301=572-7747